A Limb Has Fallen

*A limb has fallen from the family tree,
I keep hearing a voice saying,
"Grieve not for me.*

*Remember the best times,
the laughter, the song
The good life I lived while I was strong.
Continue my heritage,
I'm counting on you
Keep smiling and surely the sun will shine through.*

*My mind is at ease, my soul is at rest.
Remembering all, how I truly was blessed.
Continue traditions, no matter how small.
Go on with your life, don't worry about falls.
I miss you all dearly, so keep up your chin.
Until the day comes, we're together again."*

Acknowledgments

The family of Granger Williams wishes to express gratitude for all your prayers, words of encouragement, calls and every gesture of kindness and support during this time of our bereavement.

A very special thank you to Bishop Samuel A. Darden and the Word of Life family for opening up their church doors to us during this time.

Obituary

Granger Keith Williams was born in Boston, Massachusetts on June 29, 1969 to his parents, Walter and Hazel Williams. He was raised in a loving Christian home with his parents and sisters in Norwood, MA.

Granger was educated in the Norwood school system for elementary and junior high school. He received his high school diploma from Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School in Sudbury, MA in 1987. Granger continued his education and attended Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University in Tallahassee, Florida where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in 1991. He was proud to be a FAMU Rattler.

After receiving his college degree, Granger relocated to Atlanta, Georgia and began his career in human and social services as a case worker. He remained in the field of social work as it was his passion to help people and make a difference in their lives. He always had a genuine caring nature. He showed great empathy and willingness to engage and support anyone he came in contact with. Granger continued working in the field of human services in New York and in Boston.

Granger grew up as an actively engaged member at Holy Tabernacle Church in Dorchester, MA from the time he was 10 years old until he went away for college. He served on the junior usher board and junior choir.

Family was very important to Granger. He loved his family. He served in the office of Family Historian for the Cole-Mask-Maske Family. He had a knack for researching and keeping in close contact with family members near and far. "Uncle Pooty" as he was affectionately known by his nieces and nephews made it a point to attend graduation ceremonies from kindergarten to college of his nieces and nephews. He was a very proud uncle. He also attended all special family events and gatherings. Rest assured, if there was music, you could always find Granger on the dance floor.

Granger loved to travel. He spent much of his time visiting with family and friends. He was the common thread that kept many family members connected to whatever was going on. Granger gave "keeping in touch" a new meaning. He would call or reach out on Facebook just to check on you to see how you were doing. His signature and very distinctive greeting of "Heyyyyyy" was a term of endearment.

He was such a fun-loving person. He loved to live, laugh and have a good time! His laugh was infectious! Granger was a great cook, which he had to be with his insatiable appetite. He would eat you out of house and home! He also loved to dress, as he was quite the fashionable guy. He was also a trivia king and a huge fan of Jeopardy. He was very knowledgeable in so many areas. He tried out to be a contestant on Jeopardy and received a call back to participate but was traveling at the time!

Granger was preceded in death by his father, Walter. He leaves to cherish his memories his loving mother Hazel; two sisters, Baroness Martin (Greg) and Ingrid Tucker (Phillip); brother, Marc Stallworth (Wanda); nieces, Taylor, Chandler, Pilar, Jordan, and Sydney; nephews, Myles, Drew and Phillip Jr., grandnieces, Hendrix and Cooper. He also leaves behind a host loving aunts, uncles, cousins and other family members and friends.

Lovingly Submitted by the Family
