

Dear Dad:

*I will cry because there was always something else that kept me away from you,
But I always prayed for you.
I will cry tears of sorrow
but will have fond thoughts of you.
I will cry because you left so many people behind
to mourn the loss of you.
I will not cry because I was able to say goodbye to you.
That fight was just too strong for you.
I will cry only on this day,
for you will always be with me.
You will always be in my heart.
I love u daddy!
Love always,
Your daughter, Sitara*

Gregory Day was born on August 1, 1947 to Eddie and James Louis Day in Savannah, Georgia.

His mother brought him to Boston, Massachusetts when he was two years old. He attended school in Boston and obtained his general education diploma (GED) in 1968.

Gregory was blessed with a daughter, Sitara Shiree Henry, on March 23, 1978. Sitara blessed him again on March 11, 2002 with his grandson, Tyler Dushaun Duncan.

Gregory worked at the Urban League of Massachusetts and Alianza Hispania as a counselor and computer instructor. He was also a proud member of the Vine Street Community Center's Board of Directors.

Gregory is survived by his daughter, Sitara and her spouse, Megan "Mello" Fontenot; his grandson, Tyler Duncan; Angela Henry (Sitara's mother); Gregory's wife, Cynthia Santos; – all of Boston, MA; his brother, James Louis Day III and his daughter, Kyla Day-Fletcher – both of Georgia; along with Cynthia's children and grandchildren.

In lieu of flowers, a donation is requested in memory of Gregory Day to the Vine Street Community Center, 339 Dudley Street, Roxbury, MA 02119 - (617) 635-1285.
